

TRANE®

*HVAC Systems and Solutions
Easier, Simpler, Quicker with Cooperative Purchasing*

Fill Your Comfort Solutions with Trane® and U.S. Communities™

For over 100 years, Trane® has been a leader in state-of-the-art heating, ventilation, and air conditioning systems for commercial, industrial, and institutional applications.

Our proven success in delivering high-performance HVAC systems and services to customers, our commitment to sustainability and energy efficiency, and our reputation for reliability combined with advanced innovation makes Trane the ideal supplier for all U.S. Communities participants.

It can be a challenge to maintain high-quality building environments within budget constraints. Required energy efficiency and environmental sustainability may seem financially out of reach.

Our contract with U.S. Communities™ allows customers to benefit from the potential cooperative purchasing power of up to 90,000 public agencies. U.S. Communities, a cooperative purchasing organization, provides world class government procurement resources and solutions.

All contracts available through U.S. Communities are competitively bid by a lead public agency and provide access to a broad line of top national suppliers.

U.S. Communities delivers excellence in cooperative solutions by providing:

- Third-party audits
- Benchmarking analyses
- Rigorous supplier commitments

Who Can Participate?

Many different types of government and nonprofit entities qualify to purchase through U.S. Communities.

K-12 school districts and higher education

Cities, towns, counties, states, and other government entities
